

Mr Melvin Spreij Counsellor, WTO Standards and Trade Development Facility 	Melvin Spreij holds a degree in civil and business law from Leiden State University in The Netherlands. Before joining the Organization (WTO) in 2006, he worked for many years in various legal positions, including as international legal consultant at the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) in Rome. Melvin has wide experience in the development of food safety and health legislation and published several papers on issues related to development and natural resources law. At present, Melvin is in WTO's Agriculture and Commodities Division and Secretary of the Standards and Trade Development Facility (STDF), a global facility for sanitary and phytosanitary (SPS) capacity building and technical cooperation. In addition to FAO and WTO, other STDF partners include the World Organization for Animal Health (OIE), the World Bank and the World Health Organization (WHO).
---	---