

Dr Daouda Bangoura

OIE Delegate for Guinea

After working for six years in a technical capacity (farm, laboratory) and teaching at the faculty of animal science of the agricultural and livestock research institute (ISAF) in Kindia, Guinea, he spent the next seven years managing a company involved in wholesaling veterinary medicinal products, during which time he served as chair of Guinea's national veterinary association for three consecutive years. Over the ensuing 11 years, Doctor X was involved in the administration and management of Guinea's Veterinary Services (animal health, medicinal products and veterinary public health). He spent the following two years coordinating and running national programmes to support the development of the livestock sector, as well as instigating quality assurance in the livestock services in general and the veterinary services in particular. He then worked for two years as a consultant to the Livestock Ministry in the capacity of Technical Adviser to the Minister. For the past 15 years, Doctor X has represented Guinea as Permanent Delegate to the OIE.
